Dear Ms Lowe,

We have to get this right or all is lost. Building a new bridge to the Eastern Shore is counterproductive. New highways will only encourage more travellers; more travellers encourage more development, and more development will destroy the unique nature of the Shore that attracts people to visit. I like the vision of the Baltimore Sun op ed article that said, "Let the Eastern Shore be." Don't build a new crossing over the bay and lose this jewel of agriculture & historic treasure.

Sincerely,
